Mouth Cancer Detection Day Set For Sunday

Sunday has been designated as Mouth Cancer Detection Day for the Appomattox area.

The clinic, sponsored by the Appomattox Dental Society, The American Cancer Society and your state and local health departments, will be FREE to all who register from 12 noon until 5 p.m.

The clinic will be located in the Dental Offices of Dr. S. R. Lawson and Dr. John Fedison. The examination is painless and will take approximatelya 3 to 5 minutes for the dentist to insure if the patient has any visual signs of possible oral disease. If further tests are required, an oral surgeon will be available to make or complete the tests.

Dr. C. G. O'Brien, President of the Appomattox County Unit, American Cancer Society, and Chairman of the Planning Committee said, "Mouth Cancer is painless and you may not be aware of the disease - only a dentist or physician can tell by a quick and thorough examination. This cancer if found early has almost a 100 percent cure rate but if allowed to grow and spread it can become one of the most deadly of all cancers."

Although mouth cancer is generally a disease of persons over 40 years of age, all area residents are encouraged to

Invitation To Participate In Railroad Festival

According to Mrs. John L. Wilson, Parade Chairman of the 1976 Historic Appomattox Railroad Festival, letters of invitation have been sent to 60 area high school bands, marching units and drill teams for the parade to be held on Oct. 11.

Despite the large number of letters already sent, Mrs. Wilson feels that this is not completely representative of eligible groups that could participate. Therefore, she would appreciate local citizens contacting her if they are aware of any group which might be able to enter the parade either as units on foot or floats. Be prepared to give her the name and address of the appropriate person to contact on behalf of the group you know.

Also, there is a critical need for cards for dignitaries as well as horse drawn carriages. The Parade Committee needs to

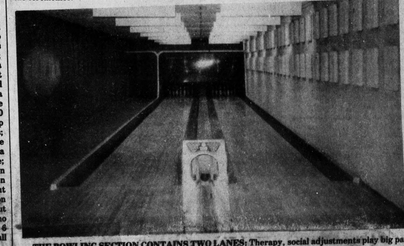
Blindness: Normalcy Is Possible

RECREATION WING AT NEW CENTER FOR THE BLIND. Dedication Day guests gather for the ceremonies.



THE BOWLING SECTION CONTAINS TWO LANES. Therapy, social adjustments play big part in making normalcy possible for the blind.

Without the help of thousands of contributing Virginians, the Commonwealth's Lions Clubs could never have pulled it off. With that help, a new dimension has been added to the rehabilitation of the blind.

When Virginia decided to build its recently dedicated Rehabilitation Center for the Blind, the plans included a recreation wing. Lack of immediate funds from the state, however, curtailed construction of that wing, the main structure itself requiring hundreds of thousands of dollars. Into the breach stepped the Lions Club of Virginia, which jointly agreed to come up with the $250,000 in matching funds to go along with a similar sum available from the federal government.

Now that $460,000 wing is opened and the vital recreational aspects of rehabilitation are part of the State's humanitarian system of restoring normalcy to those stricken with blindness. Recreation puts an afflicted person right back into the mainstream with his unaffected friends and companions.

Members of the local Lions Club shared in this worthy project by donating a total of $670.00 last year to the Virginia Rehabilitation Center in Richmond, according to Dr. C. G. O'Brien, Chairman of the Sight Conservation Committee of the Lions Club of Appomattox.

Local Lions, with Sight Conservation as their pet project, during the year raised money through the White Cane Sale and the Broom Sale, both annual fund raising project of the local club. The club also collected approximately 115 pairs of glasses donated by the citizens of the county that are provided to worthy applicants, and have purchased 15 pairs of glasses at a cost of $306.00 for persons needing assistance.

Appomattox Lions, being interested in preventing blindness, contributed last year $350.00 to the Old Dominion Eye Bank and Research, Inc., and they have 102 eye donor cards that may be used someday to enable a blind person to see again with a corneal transplant. The Prevention of the Blind Society is another good organization in Virginia and last year local Lions donated $100.00 to them.

Another facet of the work being done by this service club was the sponsoring last year of the Glaucoma Clinic in the Spring. It was a tremendous success and a project the Appomattox Lions can truly be proud of . . . they feel that it is of great importance to help prevent blindness if at all possible, and, too, it is important to do whatever can be done to help blind persons lead a normal life.

ACTIVITIES: Bowling? Swimming? Gymnasium - playroom? Dayroom with television, yes all of these can be enjoyed by the blind, and through the efforts of the Lions Clubs in the State of Virginia, these, plus an Assembly Hall for various programs and entertain, are all an integral part of the Rehabilitation Center For The Blind and are located in the recreation wing

WHY WAIT? Diabetes Doesn't Detection Clinic Set For April 27

WHY WAIT? Diabetes can be detected long before it becomes symptomatic. Acute complications can be minimized by early detection and proper medical control.

WHY WAIT? Diabetes does not and it can be detected early with a community screening program and that is just what will take place in Appomattox on Sunday, April 27.

The diabetes detection clinic, sponsored by the Appomattox Health Planning Council is planned and will take place on Sunday, April 27 from 1 until 5 p.m. and will be held in the cafeteria at the new Appomattox County High School for adults.

Growing recognition that early treatment can prevent or delay acute complications of diabetes stresses the urgency for early detection and more efficient screening programs.

Prior to taking advantage of this FREEdetection clinic you may want to know the following important clues: family history, obesity, history of glycosuria, obstetric and related problems, angina pectoris, hyperlipemia, certain ocular disorders, peripheral vascular minifestations, gout, and myocardial infarction. A two-hour Postprandial Blood Sugar Test will be made during the screening test and it will be important to know the foods and amounts to eat prior to being tested. Instructions will be published in the Times-Virginian in the next two issues for your information. Watch for it.

WHY WAIT? Diabetes does not. Be tested on Sunday, April 27, 1975. You will be glad you did.

New Virginians Show Big Success In County

A near capacity crowd enjoyed the concert presented by the New Virginians from Virginia Tech, sponsored by the Appomattox Lions Club, on Saturday night at the new Appomattox County High School auditorium.

The variety of selections presented and the enthusiasm of the group performing set the atmosphere for a truly enjoyable evening.

This was an excellent community project and the Lions Club members are to be congratulated for their efforts in securing this group and making arrangements. More entertainment of this nature would be appreciated by all who attended.
